Jazz musician Jennifer Leitham, who played the "Winter Sounds" series in 2015, will be performing again this coming December.

'Winter Sounds' concert series whisks its way into WeHo

Beginning Dec. 2, "Winter Sounds," the city of West Hollywood's free indoor concert series, will present three Saturday evening concerts for its 2017-18 season.

The holiday jazz show will take place on Dec. 2, and will feature world-renowned jazz bassist, composer and vocalist Jennifer Leitham taking on well-loved holiday classics and standards. "I Stand Corrected," the documentary film about her public gender transition from John to Jennifer, has won 11 awards at film festivals internationally.

On Jan. 20, the concert series will highlight French and Russian classics with Paris Chansons, Los Angeles' premiere French and international band. Their performances – featuring four multilingual singers – are punctuated by traditional jazz standards in addition to classics in Russian, Italian and other languages.

The Peter Kavanaugh Quartet will conclude the series with American jazz standards on Feb. 17. Kavanaugh, a guitarist, bandleader and composer, has his heart and soul firmly rooted in jazz standards and the American popular songbook, but he also surprises with elements of bossa nova, blues, bop and gypsy jazz.

All concerts take place in the West Hollywood Park Public Meeting Room/City Council Chambers at West Hollywood Library. The shows begin at 5 p.m. and run until 6:15 p.m. Limited first-come, first-served seating is provided – RSVPs are requested but not required.

Winter Sounds is sponsored by the city of West Hollywood's WeHo Arts program. For information, visit weho.org/wintersounds. The West Hollywood Library is located at 625 N. San Vicente Blvd.

LGBT youth enjoy Thanksgiving thanks to C.I.T.Y x1

GIVE THANKS

Thanksgiving is an opportunity to reconnect over a wonderful meal with friends and family on a festive occasion. At the first Thanksgiving the Pilgrims were grateful to have survived in their new homes. It was their gratitude that laid the seeds for what we are grateful for today... to live in a country that allows one to succeed and prosper through hard work, tenacity and a little luck...

Wishing you and yours a Happy Thanksgiving.
